The Seminar

The 2024 National Seminar on Palm Oil Milling, Refining, Environment and Quality (POMREQ) is an on-going series of seminars organised specially for Malaysian personnel involved in the palm oil industry.

The last seminar was held in 2022 and since then many innovations and technologies have been developed. This seminar will provide the right forum for the palm oil industry and R&D organisations to exchange ideas, chart strategies for sustainable competitiveness and development of the palm oil industry in the global oils and fats market.

Who Should Attend? (Limited to Malaysians and Malaysian Companies only)

CEOs, executives, researchers, engineers, scientists, millers, refiners, planters, consultants, entrepreneurs, manufacturers, environmentalists, NGOs and suppliers of products, machinery and services related to the palm oil industry.

Objectives

To inform participants of improvements in existing technologies that may improve the productivity of palm oil mills and refineries;

To provide an update on recent research and technological developments that may improve the quality and environmental performance of the industry;

To deliberate on issues and concerns that may have an impact on palm oil related industries; and

To provide a forum and platform for networking, meaningful interactions and exchange of ideas and experiences amongst participants, for enhancing the continued development of the palm oil industry.

Tentative Programs

Day 1

Session 1 - Milling Technology
Session 2 - Processing, Food Safety & Quality

Day 2

Session 3 - Renewable Energy
Session 4 - Biomass Circularity
Session 5 - Sustainability & Climate Change
